Michigan Con Turns on Gas in Grayling

Natural gas arrived in Grayling Tuesday.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company and city and county officials gathered Tuesday morning for valve turning ceremonies which permitted natural gas to flow into the utility's 15 mile distribution system to serve Grayling.

Grayling became the first of 44 communities in the northeastern half of the Lower Peninsula to receive gas service as a part of the utility's $12.5 million expansion program in this area. Michigan Consolidated also turned gas on in Roscommon Tuesday afternoon and Gaylord and Frederic, Thursday.

Construction is still underway in the Prudenville-Houghton Lake area which will be turned on some time next month, according to James C. Preston, general manager of the company's Northern District.

Robert L. McIntosh, manager of the utility's Grayling area, said that service lines have been installed to 416 homes and business places in Grayling, about 65 percent of those who have signed up for service. When a customer has had his fuel line connected to his appliances or furnace, he should call 348-4581 and order his meter installed. Bottled gas appliances will be converted to use natural gas free of charge.

McIntosh said the large number of calls will necessitate some delay in the ordinary fast service the company gives, "but we will see that everybody has gas service just as quickly as we can." Other types of furnaces can be converted to burn natural gas by heating contractors within a few hours at a nominal cost which is returned to the customer in the form of savings on fuel bills, McIntosh said.

Since Michigan Consolidated announced plans to supply Grayling the company has signed up 623 customers here.

Preston said natural gas service to the area was well ahead of schedule. "We expected to be completed by September 1, but good early spring weather combined with hard working contractors put us a month ahead of schedule," he said.

To supply this corner of the state, Michigan Consolidated constructed two major pipelines, one to serve the east shore area along Lake Huron from Tawas to Alpena, and the other to serve the center of the state as far north as Gaylord.

The company installed a 16-inch line from its Hamilton underground storage field in Clare County to West Branch and over to Tawas and north to Alpena. The eight-inch line that supplies this area connects with that line south of Houghton Lake.

The utility constructed a total of 200 miles of pipelines and 230 miles of distribution system to serve the northeastern corner of the state. All of the construction was done by private contractors who will also restore streets, lawns and other excavations to their original condition as quickly as possible. Van Ess Company of Comstock Park was the contractor for the pipeline to Gaylord and for the distribution system in Grayling and Gaylord.

Preston said Michigan Consolidated was "extremely pleased to be doing business in Grayling. We have had wonderful cooperation from all of the city, county and township officials in the area and the residents have been more than enthusiastic in receiving us."

"We are now in a position to do our best to do something for the people of this area by reducing their cost of living through lower fuel costs and by doing our best to help bring new industry and business to the area that may be desired."

"We have come a long way to get here, but I'm sure it will be well worth while to both our company and our new customers here."

Preston said.

Grayling Man Faces Charge

James G. Petersen, 24, of Grayling was arraigned in Justice Court late last week before Justice of the Peace Olin Williamson on a charge of manslaughter. The charge grew out of a fatal auto accident which occurred on M-72 west of Grayling early in the morning of Saturday, July 18.

Petersen was released on a $2,500 bond. He will face trial at the next regular term of Circuit Court or possibly at a special term.

Killed in the accident was Fifth Army advisor Glen A. Black, 30, of North Muskegon who was attached to the Michigan National Guard. Three others were injured in the accident.

State police, who investigated, said Black was traveling east and the other car, driven by Petersen, was going west. Officers said the Black vehicle was struck in the left side.

The mishap took place about four miles west of Grayling near the intersection of the Eagle Point Road with M-72.

Carolyn Klein Attends Summer Music Session

Miss Carolyn Klein returned recently from Kipsland, Michigan, where she spent a two week period as a participant in the Summer Session for High School Musicians.

She was among one hundred forty-nine students who attended the session held on the campus of Eastern Michigan University.

Each student was required to engage in one major organization such as choir, band, or orchestra and to attend at least one of the following classes: Theory I, Theory II, Music Literature, Conducting or Voice Class.

On July 2, Carolyn appeared in a student recital held at Peace Auditorium. She sang "Dedication" by Franz and was accompanied at the piano by her private voice instructor, Mr. Len Riccio.

The high light of the three-week session was the farewell banquet and the final concert held on July 20. At the banquet Carolyn was presented with an Outstanding Camper Award, an award given for outstanding citizenship and leadership. She was one of ten students receiving awards.

Ohio Governor To Review

Buckeyes March Saturday

CAMP GRAYLING — Nearly 9,000 officers and men of Ohio's 37th Infantry Division came in from the field, shake off the dust and pass in review before Gov. James A. Rhodes, their commander-in-chief, Saturday.

For many of the units, the review will be the only time during the Division's two-week field training they will get to see the main camp area. Most of the units moved directly into the far flung reaches of this sprawling, 134,000 acre camp and set up bivouac areas upon arrival last weekend.

Some will remain in the same bivouac areas the entire two weeks while others will switch training sites for the second week of training. Only men remaining in the main camp area this week are several hundred members of the Division's technical service units and about 200 Army Reservists attached to the Division for summer training. Among them is the 4074th Replacement Station of Horsham,

Pa., near Philadelphia, assigned as a group.

Gov. Rhodes will fly in to Grayling airport early Saturday morning for the annual governor's review, slated for 10 a. m. It will be the second year in succession Rhodes has reviewed the Division and only the second time in five years the 37th Division has been training at Grayling the governor of the state has visited camp.

Also on hand for the review this year will be all living former commanders of the Division and several other generals who served with the Buckeye state's largest National Guard outfit. Among those expected is Brig. Gen. Herbert Eagon, who retired as Assistant Division Commander since the last summer camp period.

Reviewing the troops with Gov. Rhodes will be Maj. Gen. Loren G. Windom, the Division commander. It will be the last year he will have this honor, since Gen. Windom's retirement is slated before the next training period.

Under Gen. Windom's guidance, the 37th has become one of the top-rated Reserve or National Guard divisions in the nation.

It is the only one in the Army's Reserve force which is completely self-supporting. This means the Division is completely independent while at camp. Other Reserve and Guard forces have support services such as medical, food issuance and motor vehicle maintenance provided by regular Army units.

Gen. Windom said he attributes the Division's fine performance to a "tremendous continuity of officers and enlisted men." He noted that some of the Division's leaders have served together as long as 25 years through World War II and activation during the Korean conflict.

The Division is trying to obtain an even higher rating with this year's summer training. Scores of

Public Invited To 37th Division Review

Maj. Gen. Loren G. Windom, commander of the 37th Infantry Division, extends an invitation to all residents of the Grayling area to attend the annual Governor's Review at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Ohio's Gov. James A. Rhodes will be on hand for the review as will the nearly 9,000 officers and men of the Buckeye Division.

Regular Army evaluators are grading nearly every move of the Division units and their leaders. They are used to compare the Division with other Reserve and Guard outfits and with regular Army standards.

The first week of training is being devoted to a refresher in rifle squad and small unit training. The second week will integrate the small unit training into larger maneuvers. Last year's training was aimed at larger units. Also being stressed this year are guerrilla-type or individual tactics. Every weapon organic to the Division, except the Honest John Rocket, is to be fired this week.

In line with this training, a strenuous physical fitness program has been established for each man daily. Each Division member will have to pass the Army's physical training test before the end of camp.

As in the past years, the long trek from the Division's 53 home stations in Ohio to Grayling was made entirely in military vehicles. No Division member is permitted to drive his civilian car to camp. The attached reservists, however, are allowed to drive here.

"We try not to do in peacetime anything we wouldn't do in combat," Gen. Windom said. "That's why you'll find no cars here, no stinky helmets, decals or fancy belt buckles. You wouldn't find them in combat," he added. "That's why you won't find them here."

The trip to Grayling this year wasn't as successful as in past years. Four of the 1,794 vehicles making the trip were involved in minor accidents.

One involved Lt. Col. J. Gordon Pettier, director of Ohio's Department of Commerce who commands the 1st Battalion, 136th Artillery. Lt. Col. Pettier suffered minor injuries when the car which he was riding in went off the road and rolled over several times near Lansing. He and another officer, who was driving were treated and released at Grayling Mercy Hospital. No one was injured in any of the other accidents.

The mishaps marred the Division's safety record which had reached more than five million vehicle miles without an accident over a two year period.

In all, the 1,794 vehicles moved 660,465 total vehicle miles on the trip. The average per vehicle was 402 miles with some units being on the road as long as 20 hours.

At camp, the Division will add another half million vehicle miles. After the governor's review Saturday, most officer and men will be given until Monday morning for rest and relaxation. Then it's back to the rigorous maneuvers.

The training period ends August 8th.

PLAN BAND CONCERT

Weather permitting, the Ohio National Guard will present a band concert on the Courthouse Lawn at 7 o'clock the evening of Thursday, July 30. The public is cordially invited to hear this outstanding group.

Members of a 37th Division Infantry unit undergoing briefing prior to the conduct of a tank-infantry exercise during the opening stages of the Division's two-week summer training period. Training during this first week will generally be a refresher for small units with that training being integrated into larger field maneuvers next week.

Apprehend One of Three Camp Walkaways

One of a trio of walkaways from Camp Lehman, Corrections Custodial work camp near Hartwick Pines State Park, has been recaptured but the other two were still at large the first of this week.

Ernest Thompson, 25, was recaptured near Harrison by Michigan State Police. The other two, John Scott, 25 and John L. Wilson, 29, are still being sought.

Police said the trio was missing when a bed check was made early today at the prison work camp.

Scott was described as 5 feet, 11 inches, weighing 145 pounds with brown hair and eyes. Wilson is six feet, 145 pounds with brown hair and hazel eyes.

All three were serving terms for larceny, police said.

PONY TALES

By JANET W. OLSON

If you saw a horse with striped hoofs, roan hair, bright spots, white blanketed hips, this horse would be an Appaloosa. This has become a very popular horse in Michigan and can be traced back to 1800 B.C. It was in the new world, however, that these horses were bred by the Nez Perce Indians and for over 200 years were kept pure in blood. After the Indian wars of 1877 these beautiful animals were confiscated as war loot from the Nez Perce and were put up for government auction. The breeding was haphazard after this and the pure blood lines of the Appaloosa remained in almost obscurity until the 1900's. Men again became interested in this great horse and careful breeding programs were planned. Many years of hard work and determination went into bringing back the Appaloosa horse. At most of the big horse shows today the Appaloosa is second only to the popular Quarter Horse in this area.

We are fortunate in Crawford County to have a breeding and training ranch with some of the finest Appaloosa horses in the country. Visitors are always welcome at the South Branch Ranch and for some of you who have never seen a real horse ranch in operation it is well worth your while to drive out. Lynn and Steve Sias are the owners and Marty Tharnish their fine trainer. The plans for the South Branch Ranch are growing in leaps and bounds and I'm sure you will be hearing more of this operation.

Weekends are a busy time for the Sias family now that the show season is in full swing. The wall over the fire place in the living room already has more than its share of ribbons and trophies. Each week-end means a new show and new honors to this young family. Stop in and see them.

HINT FOR THE WEEK—Don't cut a foal mane thinking it will grow heavier as a yearling. Truth is that a foal, like a person, loses its baby hair and you will have a much nicer mane if you just take the time to brush it.

Anyone having a question concerning ponies, may write to Pony Tales, c/o Avalanche and your questions will be answered in the column.

ARCHERY DEER KILL

FOURTH BEST

Michigan's archery deer hunters, estimated at nearly 40,000, hit the kill mark with 2,140 whitetails last fall to register their best season since 1958 and fourth highest take on record.

Results of a Conservation Department survey indicate that about one of every 20 bowmen and women archers was successful.

Upper Peninsula hunters again were the sharpest shooters, with nearly 12 percent of them getting a deer. Archer success was about five percent in the northern Lower Peninsula, and almost four percent in the southern half of the state.

A Light To Live By...

It is customary to think of the United States as a young nation, and genealogically this is true. As a people, Americans owe allegiance to none but ourselves. We are young. We declared our independence 188 years ago. We won it after seven bitter years of war 181 years ago. But what we forget is that young as we are, we are nevertheless the oldest major republic on earth. We have more experience at community government than any other nation save Switzerland. It has worked wonderfully well for us. Even our Civil War resulted in cementing us more firmly together, and in our 181 years we have grown from a small, barely independent nation into the lustiest, most powerful people of them all.

What our detractors cannot conceive is that we have no desire to rule. Autocratic governments must rule to live; they cannot govern because to govern is to carry out the wishes of the citizenry and few citizens of any nation want domination and political slavery.

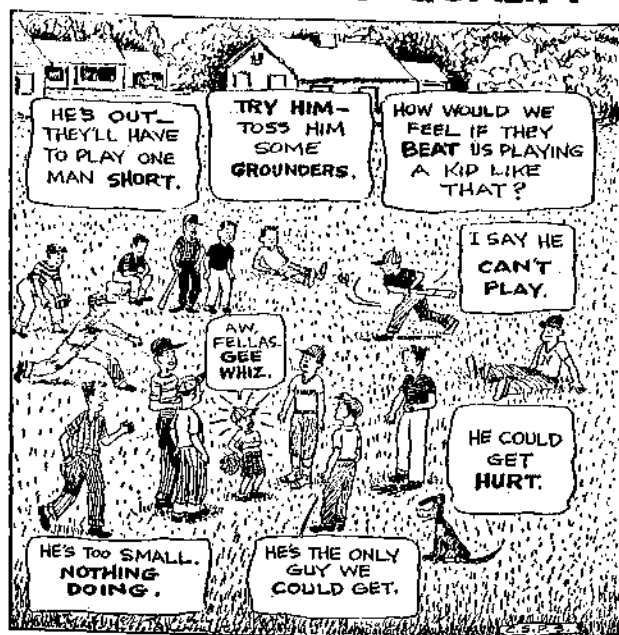

The distractions which surround us must not obscure in our minds the means of preserving what our forefathers gained for us nearly 200 years ago. Those patriots lit a lamp that still burns brighter than any other and if we tend it well will continue to shed its warm and kindly light long after the cold flame of despotism has burned itself out.

Let The Users Pay...

Back in 1953, the Post Office Department inaugurated a policy of moving first-class mail by air on a space available basis. In other words, if you happen to be lucky, your 5-cent stamp gets you 8-cents worth of carriage. It was argued that an overall economy in mail transporting costs would result.

Now the General Accounting Office, which is the watchdog of federal spending, has reviewed the airlift program for 1960-61. And it has found, and has so reported to Congress, that the Department has incurred unnecessary costs because of the airlift. Specifically, it says, rather than reducing costs by a predicted $212,000 a year, expansion of the program has increased them by more than a million, or by about 85 per cent more than the costs of surface transportation. The GAO also noted that there was airlift service on certain routes on weekends and at certain other times when existing surface transportation could provide the same service at substantial reductions in the Department's transportation costs.

It seems only reasonable that those who want their mail to be airlifted be required to stick on the proper postage. Surface transportation of regular mail—which is primarily provided by the railroads with their huge fleets of mailcars—is efficient, economical, and capable of meeting any demand as the almost incredible job done at Christmas time attests year after year. The sole advantage of the airlift is speed and that is only a factor when great distances are involved. And those who find a need for speed should pay for it.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

July 31, 1941

Last Thursday afternoon a few friends and neighbors were invited to the home of Mrs. Augustus Funk to meet Miss Katherine Briggs of Harrison, who was a guest at the Funk home for the week. A lovely lunch was served, with baby breath and garden flowers used for decoration. Miss Briggs will become the bride of Mr. Robert Funk on August 18th.

R. A. Wright, general manager of the National Log Construction Company of this city, is planning a housing project of ten buildings to be erected in the pine grove directly across from the office of the above company. In view of the shortage of homes and apartments that exists in our city, this project should be most welcome.

The war-club of the Grayling Merchants baseball team collected twenty-three hits, including two doubles, five triples and a home run to turn back Johannesburg 25-0 as Elmer Kellogg hurled five-hit ball for his first shut-out of the year. Kellogg was never in danger after the first inning when the visitors, after having their first batter retired, combined a single and a double but a perfect throw by left-fielder George Hanson cut down their only scoring chance of the game.

Mrs. Gilbert Vallad and Mrs. Ralph Millikin and children spent last Thursday visiting Mrs. John Peterson in Maple Forest.

tioning at the Longdyke Dream Cabin. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Longdyke and son Junior came for the weekend.

Billiam Clippert left Wednesday to spend a month at Four Way Lodge Camp on Torch Lake. Miss Elizabeth Matson is head counselor and program director of the camp.

A daughter, Janith Lynne, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sharp on Sunday, July 27, in Toledo. Mrs. Sharp is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wade of Lake Margrethe.

Mrs. Ruth DeLuggage and her nephew Clarence Brenner of Chicago, have purchased the George Collins cottage at Lake Margrethe. Members of the Brenner family have enjoyed the weekends there. Mrs. DeLuggage will be remembered as Ruth Marienhal. Both were former Grayling residents.

The catechism classes of St. Mary's church enjoyed their annual picnic at the State park at the Military reservation on Lake Margrethe Tuesday. Mrs. Liland Smock and Mrs. Carl Nielson were in charge of the arrangements and they were joined by several other grown-ups for the day. Everyone had a happy time and had all the pop, ice cream cones and candy bars they could eat.

L. A. Gardner and son Kyren of Detroit, formerly of Frederic, were in Grayling Tuesday calling on old friends. While in Frederic Mr. Gardner conducted a grocery store, and also instituted and conducted a local telephone exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells Hanover of Bay City visited at the home of John Hanover over the weekend.

Peter Hanson has been enjoying a visit from his nephew Carl J. Rasmussen, wife and daughter Doris. The latter were accompanied by Mrs. Rasmussen's sister Mrs. Fogelburg and daughter Marjorie of Milwaukee, and the party occupied Mr. Hanson's cottage at the Danish Landing, Lake Margrethe, last week returning home Saturday. Mr. Rasmussen lived in Grayling at one time.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Geister of Mt. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Geister of Flint, and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Haines and daughter Shirley of Pontiac who were vacationing here for several days and guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, returned to their homes Wednesday.

Mrs. H. A. Honnousey of Lake Orion, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Hunter for several weeks, went home with her granddaughter, Mrs. Wendell Geister, for a visit.

Edward King resumed his work at the Peterson grocery Tuesday after being absent a few days on account of illness.

Miss Rae Joseph resigned her position from the Salling Hanson Co. offices Saturday and left Tuesday for Petoskey, where she had been offered a similar position. Harvey Wheeler is driving a large new Ford truck, which will greatly assist him in his line of business, trucking and draying.

Miss Hulda Sivras, bookkeeper at Sorenson Bros. store, is enjoying a week's vacation from her duties, visiting her sister Miss Denia Sivras in Flint.

Vern Maxwell, going at a rate of about 10 miles an hour, lost control of his auto near the cemetery Monday and one of the front wheels doubled up under the car and turned it turtle, completely breaking the windshield and bending the fender. The young man was pinned beneath the auto. He was assisted by John S. Harrington in getting out. It was discovered that his shoulder blade was broken and that he was badly bruised otherwise.

During the electrical storm early last Monday morning the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Conine on Park street was struck by lightning. The sudden flash of electricity went through the house striking one corner of the interior where a bottle of turpentine was sitting.

The fluid exploded and set fire to the corner of the house. Mr. and Mrs. Conine extinguished the blaze with several pails of water. Earl Hewitt, who enlisted in the Navy some time ago, received a call from Uncle Sam to report in Detroit Saturday. He with Curry Sheehy took part in the big parade Saturday in Detroit when 1400 recruits left for the Great Lakes training station.

Frank Millikin and Floyd Marlowe have their Beaver Creek mill running nicely and are cutting nice lumber.

REFRIGERATOR-FREEZERS

End All Defrosting

Today's modern refrigerator-freezers end all defrosting in both refrigerator and freezer sections. This means no frost ever... on food packages, on cake trays or walls... no defrosting, no drying, no cracking, no emptying, no chipping, no prying, no messy pans of water to empty (or spill).

In addition, the new refrigerator-freezer will: • Store enough fresh and frozen foods to last for weeks. • Save extra trips to the market. • Keep leftovers fresh and tasty until needed. • Save money because the large freezer compartment allows you to buy meats, vegetables and baked goods when prices are low.

Moose Lodge Activities
The enrollment Sunday was one of the largest we've had for some time. Some of the Holly Degree Team couldn't make it, due to last minute circumstances, so the Grayling team filled in. Seven new members were enrolled. The Women of the Moose served a nice lunch afterwards. 23

An Officers' meeting was held Friday night at the lodge. A rule on re-enrollment was passed, and the plans for the building were discussed. We should see some changes this week, as quite a lot of work is scheduled. We're going to try to do most of our work evenings, instead of all on the weekends, due to the hot weather. 23

Anyone willing to sit at the door on Saturday night, please leave your name, and night desired, at the club, or contact Chuck Stoddard. 23

Don't forget to make your plans for the annual Moose Picnic on August 16 at Sands Park on Manistee Lake. Directions on how to get there are on the bulletin board at the club. All Moose members whose dues are paid to date, and their families, are invited. 23

The Degree Team goes to Bay City Sunday for an enrollment. Our next regular meeting is Friday, August 7 at 8:00 p.m. The Degree Team still has a few left. If you haven't gotten one yet, you should do it now, before they are all gone. 23

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE
There will be no August 2 meeting of the W.O.M. due to the hot weather. The next meeting is August 17. The next initiation is September 7. A lunch and baby shower for Ruth Isenhauser will follow. Lillian King, pub. 23

CANDIDATE ROUNDUP

Only a sudden, unexpected surge in the conservative wing of the polls Sept. 1 could provide a change from the near certainty of a Romney-Staebler gubernatorial contest in November.

Barring a GOP primary upset by Ferndale auto dealer George N. Higgins over Gov. George Romney, the spotlight then focuses on who will hold down the No. 2 spot on the Michigan ballot in the first election under the team principal.

Under the new Constitution, the Lieutenant Governor candidate for each party will be nominated at convention and run on a ticket with the gubernatorial nominee just as the President and Vice President run as a team.

Previously, nomination to be No. 2 slot was by petition or filing fee just as for Governor and other offices. This system resulted in the 1963-64 situation where the Governor was a Republican but a Democrat held the Lieutenant Governor's chair.

Three men have openly announced interest in the Republican nomination. On the Democratic side, open availability remains a big question mark.

Hoping for the Republican nod are former Lt. Gov. Clarence A. Reid of Detroit, House Speaker Allison Green of Kingston, and State Sen. William G. Milliken of Traverse City.

Reid was the party's nominee in 1962 but was bested by Democrat T. John Lesinski by just over 3,000 votes. He previously served as presiding officer in the Senate in 1953-54.

Closest to Romney's moderate Republican views is Milliken, now completing his second term in the Senate. Green is generally viewed as a conservative but was just mental in gaining House passage of Romney's programs during the past two years.

Green has served seven terms in the House, four of them as majority floor leader and this past term as Speaker.

Romney has given no indication as to which he prefers, if any. He did no team campaigning with Reid two years ago.

Elimination of two present Democratic Administrative Board members from the No. 2 possible list by their entry in Congressional races left only one prominently mentioned candidate.

State Party Chairman Zolton A. Ferency has denied aspirations for the post, however, and there has been doubt expressed about his acceptability to Neil Staebler. Ferency's selection as state party chief in 1963 was vigorously opposed by Staebler.

Candidates for the No. 2 spot will be chosen by the parties in the mid-September, after the primary vote.

Thus, many Democrats are looking to the Congressional contests for other prospects for Lieutenant Governor.

CLEANER PLATES

Annual issuance of license plates will be resumed next year if Secretary of State James M. Hare and two State Senators have their way.

The resumption of annual plates, abandoned in 1959, will be formally proposed in the Legislature next year by Sens. John T. Bowman, D-Roseville, and Robert VanderLaan, R-Grand Rapids.

Hare said he fully supports the idea and hopes Michigan citizens will express their sentiments on the matter when the time comes.

Since the unforgettable cash crisis year of 1959, new plates have been issued only every three years with tabs sold in the other years.

Pleas in this session to either issue annual plates or make the three-year ones of more rust-resistant metal went unheeded. Many motorists have paid the $1 or $2 fee this year to replace unreadable, corroded 1962 plates now in use with tabs.

Costs of the change to annual plates have not been computed but Hare, Bowman and VanderLaan think the price of readable plates would be worthwhile.

A LOW READING
Michigan's 14,000 blind residents are being short-changed on state services, according to one expert in the field.

The state's lag has also resulted in failure to use four-fifths of the Federal matching funds available for blind aid, says Dr. Edward Fitting, supervisor of services for the blind.

With only seven full-time state employees doing work for the blind, Fitting said Michigan has fallen to 48th ranking among the states in the amount of state money spent to aid blind persons.

Of 36 states with separate agencies providing services to the blind, Fitting said Indiana is the only state which spends less money than Michigan to operate its agency.

Letters To The Editor

July 23, 1964

Mr. Robert Strong, Editor
Crawford County Avalanche
Grayling, Michigan

Dear Bob:

When the decision to install parking meters in Grayling was announced, I viewed it with alarm, was vocally critical and predicted mass opposition from all those who park cars on the main streets of Grayling.

From several years experience with such "one armed bandits" while traveling, and contributing to several of them every day, I just knew that they could not be beneficial to the parking public or the community. The past two weeks I have been in town nearly every day. I find that what I was so sure I knew, just isn't so. It is easier to find a parking space, and to date I have been able to park within half a block of the store or business I wanted to visit. With a red face I now must admit that parking meters have made parking easier for me. If they were to make no financial contribution, the fact that they have speeded up parking and leveled out the parking load is a decided plus for the community.

I want to compliment the Mayor, Council and other officials in acting on their better judgement, knowing that much public opinion was not sympathetic. In my judgement it was the action of mature men facing their responsibilities. The public is benefitting because of it.

Sincerely yours,
George A. Griffith

ROUSE - WAKELEY VOWS SOLEMNIZED

SEVEN ATTEND HOMEMAKERS' CONFERENCE

The theme of the 37th Annual Homemakers' Conference College Week for women was Better Family Living through Education. This year is also the 50th Anniversary of the Cooperative Extension Service. Fifty-six pioneer Extension members were recognized for their long participation in Home Economics Extension Service of MSU.

Seven Crawford County members were among the nearly one thousand women attending last week.

They are Mrs. Fred Koerke, Mrs. John Bates, Mrs. Pat Harwood, Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mrs. Claude Sloan, Mrs. Clayton Hildebrand, Mrs. Kip Papendick. The ladies attended classes on "What's in the Name of Cotton, Nutrition and the Consumer," "Understanding Your Child's Mathematics," "Home Management for Young Families," "Toward a Healthy, Happy Family," "Photography," "Social Psychology and Personality Development," "Family Recreation," and "Building Confidence in Leadership."

Dr. Margaret Browne, Director Division of Home Economics USA, opened the four-day program, speaking on "Women - A Hidden Treasure." She stated 36% of all homemakers have full or part-time jobs but cautioned that important family needs should not be neglected. Women's role as citizens is important because more women than men are eligible to vote.

Charles T. Vetter, Jr., principal lecturer on international communications and communism for the United States information agency, told the women the United States is involved in a world-wide competition that involves every aspect of human life, that we must get Americans to understand other people on their own terms before we can tell them about us. Also that we must make the truth catch up with the communists when they do not live up to their promises.

An outstanding speaker was Dr. Lettroy Augenstein on "Who Should Decide." He talked on work being done in biology as it pertains to the unborn child and the work being done with the malformed child. A diaper test at the age of 19 days can be given to determine if a child is retarded.

Special meetings were held for County Chairmen which Crawford County chairman Mrs. Kip Papendick attended. Classes were held twice a day on various subjects, planned tours, discussion groups and special topics as "A Look at Teen-Age Marriages" and "After 40 - What?" and the Ice Tabled show where several of the world champions performed.

Eight women from the Malaga Republic attended the meetings with their interpreters. These men were hand selected by the President of the Republic, one from each region. In the evenings they demonstrated several native dances. On their return to their own country they plan to put on a program similar to our Women's Week.

Thursday evening, a banquet was served to about 900 women. Later in the evening Mrs. George Romney, Michigan's first lady, was the speaker. She spoke on "Building Stronger Families" and asked her audience to build their homes and families on religion and love. That our best should be given to our families as well as to guests, that "Homes are made up of dreams for our children."

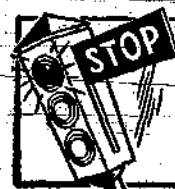

She endeavored herself to live and hence by being and speaking as one of them.

Mrs. Romney was given a standing ovation at the close. Following her address she was presented a citation from the "MIEEC by Mrs. Ted Heath, the state chairman.
